STRIKE CALLED OFF IN BRAINERD

FEDERATED SHOP CRAFTS TAKE DECISIVE VOTE ON MONDAY, OUT 7 MONTHS

Labor Hall, Occupied by Various Unions of the City, Was Crowded to Its Capacity by Men and Women; Estimated 600 Were Present

A Standing Vote Was Taken, Sentiment to Call Off the Strike Being Almost Unanimous, But 25 Out of Entire Number Voting Against It

The Federated Shop Crafts strike, so far as the union men in Brainerd are concerned, was called off at 11 o'clock Monday morning, after one of the longest walk-outs in the history of the city. The men have been on strike since last July 1st.

Rumors have been prevalent for several days that a decision would be reached soon, but not until this morning was definite action taken.

The large hall occupied by the various unions of the city was crowded to its capacity by both men and women, it being estimated that at least 600 were present.

No demonstration was made either before or after the decision was reached. A standing vote was taken and it is reported that the sentiment to call off the strike was nearly unanimous, but 25 out of the entire number voting against it.

The strike leaders in the cities at their meetings early last week failed to reach an agreement, so that it was decided to send word out to all points on the Northern Pacific system, requesting the men to hold mass meetings at once and form their own conclusions, taking whatever action seemed to them most suitable for their particular locality. These directions were sent out to the extreme western points on the Northern Pacific several days in advance of closer centers, so that the vote would be taken at about the same time at all places. It is believed that in nearly every other point on the railroad a like action will be taken to that arrived at the Brainerd meeting this morning.

The directions reached the Brainerd strikers in the morning mail today and after a lengthy discussion the vote was taken which ended the seven month's walk-out.

Applications for employment, when made at the superintendent's office in the shops, are sent to St. Paul for approval. When returned, and if accepted, applicants are assigned positions as fast as there are openings available. It takes a week or more for an application to come back from St. Paul. So far, as reported at the superintendent's office, no preference has been shown older men over younger men in the service.

The carside Monday had 363 men and maximum capacity is 464, thus permitting of engaging 101 men, if required.

On the locomotive side 598 men are now employed. Maximum capacity is 726, thus permitting of engaging 128 men, if required.

The men and women will continue to hold their regular morning meetings as heretofore until such time as all business connected with the recent strike has been disposed of, and the men who are accepted are taken back to work.

$2,000,000 WORTH OF WHISKEY IS LOST

32 RAILWAY CARS WITH 18,000 CASES, 500 BARRELS, 10,000 KEYS

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Feb. 5.—Lost—$2,000,000 worth of whiskey.

A consignment of approximately 18,000 cases, 500 barrels and 10,000 kegs of bonded liquor from Kansas distilleries to Canadian firms, was scheduled to pass through the Twin Cities in thirty-two cars yesterday.

Federal agents said it had not arrived yet today. It was planned to seize the liquor at Portal, North Dakota, Arthur A. Stone, prohibition rector for North Dakota announced.

Whether the train was merely delayed or whether it has been sidetracked, has not yet been determined.

TIDAL WAVE SWEEPED HAWAII

PRINCIPAL STREET OF HILO IS COMPLETELY INUNDATED BY WATER

(By United Press)
Honolulu, Feb. 5.—Reports of loss of life in the tidal wave which swept the windward side of the Hawaiian Islands Saturday varied widely today.

It is known that four Japanese lost their lives, but various unconfirmed reports brought the list of missing up to twelve. One message from the island said seven bodies had been recovered.

The principal street of the town of Hilo was entirely inundated. It was strewn with wreckage and thousands of fish were cast ashore. Many people were driven from their homes and sought safety in the island.

Natives recalling age-old traditions of their race were highly excited. An earthquake probably in the Pacific and many hundred miles distant was believed responsible for the wave.

FARMERS FACING FINANCIAL RUIN

UNLESS ACTION INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION ON SPUDS CHANGED

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Feb. 5.—Minnesota farmers will face financial ruin unless the action of the Interstate Commerce Commission affecting potato rates is modified.

Both branches of the state legislature were so advised today by O. P. B. Jacobson, chairman of the state railroad and warehouse commission.

Mr. Jacobson asked the legislature to send resolutions to congress asking that the reduction of 20c a hundred pounds on potatoes shipped from the Pacific coast to Kansas City be rescinded or that similar reductions be made to affect Minnesota.

Minnesota farmers will be unable to compete with the western producers if the order is allowed to stand, according to Mr. Jacobson. Minnesota farmers annually ship the majority of their seed potatoes to Texas and other southern points. This movement will be restricted unless the rate is modified, Mr. Jacobson said.

AUSTIN FURN. CO. DAMAGED $75,000

Austin, Minn., Feb. 5.—Fire which gutted the Furniture Company store here Saturday night caused damage estimated at $75,000 partially covered by insurance.

The fire was one of the most spectacular in Austin's history. 3,000 people braved the bitter cold while firemen waged battle on the flames. As the fire got to the second floor of the building a coffin exposed to view in a front window was burned. As the coffin was consumed, a corpse became visible from the street.

Three firemen were injured when an explosion blew them from a ladder.

LAUSANNE PACT IS FRUITLESS, TURKS FAIL SIGN TREATY

TURKS INSIST PROPOSALS REGARDING FOREIGN JUDICIARY UNACCEPTABLE

ISMET PASHA'S STATEMENT ON MUDANIA ARMISTICE LOOKS OMINOUS

(By United Press)
Lausanne, Feb. 5.—Allied diplomats sought a means to avoid war in the Near East today following collapse of the Lausanne conference.

Ismet Pasha, Turkish delegate, also attempted peaceful maneuvers seeking to avoid responsibility for the breakdown that followed his refusal to sign the peace treaty presented by his allies.

Marquis Curzon, head of the British delegation, went to Paris last night quitting the parley after the allies and American observer Child pleaded vainly with the Turks to sign.

The French and Italians remained here.

Today, after an apparently fruitless effort to secure renewal of the parley, the French delegation followed the example of the British and withdrew. The Italian delegation, headed by Garroni was expected to depart Tuesday.

Ismet Pasha issued a statement saying the Mudania armistice pact will remain in effect "until Lausanne ends".

He pretends not to recognize that the British withdrawal is tantamount to collapse of the conference.

Still arguing details of the proposed treaty, the Turks insisted the proposals regarding foreign judiciary are unacceptable because they retain the spirit of the capitulations. It was one of the chief tasks of the present parley to find a substitute for the capitulations.

The French and Italians gave indications they would follow the British example and bring the conference to an end, letting Turkey take full responsibility in the eyes of the world if trouble in the Near East ensued. There was a possibility, however, that the French government would instruct its delegates to attempt agreement with Ismet Pasha on the points under dispute for in certain Paris circles complete breakdown of the conference was not recognized—it was pointed out that France recently refused to abide by the British ultimatum which put a time limit on Turkey's acceptance of the treaty.

Bomb Ankara if Mosul Attacked

London, Feb. 5.—British air forces will bomb Ankara, capital of Turkey, if the Turks attack Mosul, it was understood today as plans of the war office and the cabinet in the Near East crisis were partially disclosed. It is stated authoritatively that the situation created by Turkey's recalcitrance and Marquis Curzon's withdrawal from Lausanne is extremely grave.

American Desire for Peace

Lausanne, Feb. 5.—Richard Washburn Child, American observer at the Lausanne conference, brought to bear all possible influence upon the Turkish leaders today to persuade them to sign the peace treaty.

There was some optimism among secretaries and observers that the parley might be resumed through the American Ambassador's efforts, but the French followed the example of the British and left Lausanne after Ismet Pasha had definitely refused to agree to the allies' terms. Ambassador Child offered mediation, and was in conference with the Turkish delegates.

8 ARE SERIOUSLY BURNED IN FIRE

(By United Press)
Wichita, Kansas, Feb. 5.—Eight persons were seriously burned and four others unaccounted for in a fire which destroyed an apartment building here early today.

Nearly a score of persons were given emergency treatment after fleeing from the building in their night clothes. The building was completely destroyed.

CLEAR ATLANTIC OF BOOTLEGGERS

FEDERAL PROHIBITION BUREAU STARTS GREAT CLEANUP CAMPAIGN

(By United Press)
Washington, Feb. 5.—The federal prohibition bureau has set out to purge the Atlantic seaboard of bootleggers and smugglers in the greatest cleanup campaign it has ever launched, it was revealed here today.

Intensive drives against professional violators in Pennsylvania and the District of Columbia during the past week inaugurated the campaign which is destined to spread in coming weeks to New Jersey, Maryland, Rhode Island, Massachusetts and ultimately to the south Atlantic states.

Inland states whose enforcement problems are not so urgent have been practically stripped of prohibition agents to form a great mobile force concentrated in the present drive. They are under the leadership of the most capable trained chieftains in the command of Federal Prohibition Commissioner Haynes.

MOONSHINE RAID FOLLOWED BY THE KILLING OF MAN

DETECTIVE IRA BLACKWELL IS THREATENED WITH LYNCHING IN WAUKEGAN

FORMER HAD SHOT BIELSKI IN NECK, DEATH RESULTING SHORTLY

(By United Press)
Waukegan, Ill., Feb. 5.—Heavily armed deputy sheriffs guarded the county jail here throughout the night to prevent the threatened lynching of Detective Ira Blackwell.

Blackwell was held on a charge of murder after he shot and killed Joseph Bielski, during a "moonshine" raid on the latter's home.

Friends of Bielski invaded the sheriff's office and threatened a "neck tie" party. Twelve additional deputies were called in and armed with riot guns and watched all approaches to the jail.

Crowds roamed about the streets near the jail until an early hour this morning. No attempt was made to rush the building.

"We were ready for them," Under Sheriff P. J. Stahl declared today.

"They knew we were heavily armed and didn't dare to storm the jail. I believe the trouble is over now."

Blackwell, together with Detective C. A. Brune and Fred Copas, found Bielski pouring what they believed was "moonshine" from a coffee pot into the sink when they entered the house yesterday. The officers started to disconnect the drain pipe and declared Bielski threatened to kill them if they did not get out of the house. Bielski rushed into an adjoining room and returned with a revolver snapping it at Brune, Blackwell said.

Blackwell shot Bielski in the neck. He died a few minutes later.

INSTALLATION OF SUCH DEPARTMENT MAY SOON BE ADDED TO SHOPS HERE

Report Comes From Laurel, Montana, That Three Such Departments Are to Be Established on the Northern Pacific, Being Laurel, Brainerd, Tacoma

Northern Pacific Railway, Anticipating Increased Business in the Northwest, Has Made a $17,000,000 Purchase of Box Cars, Steel Gondolas, Etc.

From Laurel, Montana, comes the newspaper report that the Northern Pacific railway company contemplates the installation of three steel car building plants located at Laurel, Brainerd and Tacoma, Wash.

The fact that it is reported that additions are also to be made to the regular shops at Laurel would support the idea that additions may also be contemplated in Brainerd.

Anticipating increased business in the Northwest, the Northern Pacific railway company, has purchased $17,000,000 worth of new equipment. Its purchase is one of the largest in the history of the road.

The $17,000,000 will buy 3,000 box-cars, 1,000 freight refrigerator cars, 70 express refrigerator cars, 250 convertibles, 250 steel gondolas, 1,000 automobile and lumber cars, 250 stock cars, 20 Pacific type locomotives, 25 Mikados and four Mallets. The 50 foot automobile and lumber cars are said to be the largest ever contracted for in the northwest.

This buying movement has not been confined to the Northern Pacific railway alone. Seven other roads will make purchases of equipment amounting to $36,500,000, showing that the realization of increased business in the great Northwest is shared by all eight roads.

FRENCH CONTINUE GETTING STRANGLE HOLD ON GERMANY

CONSOLIDATE POSITIONS ON RAILWAY TRANSPORTATION

CAVALRY, INFANTRY AND ARTILLERY ARE PUSHED FORWARD RAPIDLY

(By United Press)
Berlin, Feb. 5.—The French extended their hold on Germany over the week end and today consolidated positions which gave them a strangle hold on rail transportation between Germany and Switzerland.

Cavalry, infantry and artillery pushed forward from the Kiel bridgehead, held Offenburger and Appenburger and Appenweiler on the edge of the Black Forest.

The Frankfurt-Basle railway lies in the French grip.

The move which was entirely unexpected here was declared by the foreign office to be a violation of the Versailles treaty, but the French point out that the new occupation is in the nature of a reprisal.

It also gives the French strategic control of Stuttgart across the Black Forest.

Trouble was reported from various parts of the Rhineland Sunday. A German child was shot, apparently accidentally by a French sentry at Duisberg. An unconfirmed report from Mayence said nine Germans had been killed following a rail tie-up near that point in which the French troops were delayed and fired into a crowd. Disturbances started by communists in the Ruhr were broken up by French machine gun fire.

FARM CREDITS LEGISLATION

(By United Press)
Washington, Feb. 5.—The farm credits legislation urged by President Harding and embodied in the Capper and Lenroot-Anderson bills, passed by the senate, may not be enacted at this session of congress, Representative Mondell, republican, leader, said today.

Mondell does not believe that the house will take either bill as it stands, but will either amend one or offer a substitute bill, all of which will cause delay.

Certain numbers of the house feel that the senate has passed the buck by shifting two bills for farm relief to the house, Mondell said, after a conference with the President.

CLAIM SUIT TO GAIN PUBLICITY

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Feb. 5.—The suit against the Equity Cooperative Exchange was brought here from Fargo simply to obtain greater newspaper publicity.

This charge was made today by Benjamin Drake, attorney for the defendants at the hearings.

The plaintiffs have conducted a merciless campaign against the Exchange that no banking house in the country could have survived, Mr. Drake said.

The hearing today was to determine whether or not a receiver shall be appointed for the exchange. Former stock holders and members of the grain pool are suing for a receivership and for $200,000 which they allege they have coming to them.

HARDING WANTS SPEEDY ACTION

BUT WILL NOT DICTATE SETTLEMENT OF THE BRITISH DEBT

(By United Press)
Washington, Feb. 5.—President Harding will not attempt to dictate settlement of the British debt, but is sharply interested in speedy action by congress, Representative Mondell, republican house leader said today after a conference with the president. The president will send his message on the debt question to congress tomorrow, Mondell stated.

Due to the opposition in congress on the means and terms of settling, the President has decided to let the congressmen work out a solution, Mondell said. Mr. Harding is anxious to have the question settled at this session of congress, which ends March 4th. As there are only 20 working days left, his message will urge congress to give the debt matter immediate attention.

Congress should be able to start consideration of the matter this week, Mondell believes.

Dayton, Ohio, Feb. 5.—Lieutenants John A. MacReady and Oakley Kelly, veterans of the United States army air service "tuned up" the transport T-2 today for a second attempt to win the world's endurance record.

Unless weather intervenes, the flight will start tomorrow. "Forty-four hours is our goal," Lieutenant Kelly said, "but anything more than 35 hours will be sufficient."

It was reported in the city Monday that J. N. Francis, well known proprietor of Linden House on Round lake near Mille Lacs lake, died in Bakersfield, California on Saturday.

The Brainerd Good Will Industry, after a suspension of operations for several weeks in order to replenish the supply of materials, will open their sales room tomorrow, Tuesday afternoon.

The need is much greater than the supply this year, and it is hoped that many people will yet be able to help in the way of supplying clothing while the winter is still on.

Telephone Mrs. J. A. Shaw at 553-J, or on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday afternoons the Good Will rooms at the phone number 28 and let them know that you have something to contribute and it will be called for.

PREACHING GOSPEL
According to Best Needs of the Day Is Methodist Plan

"Preaching the gospel as best suits the needs of the day," is the plan the Methodist church of this city is using according to statements of the church.

Last night the service was given over to a showing of a six reel film "A Maker of Men," this picture is by James K. Shields whose other picture "The Stream of Life," is recognized as the strongest religious picture yet made.

A happy incident is the fact that Mr. Shields was a former pastor of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Andrews of Chipewa street while they were in Chicago.

This picture held the interest of the audience very closely last night. It portrays in a vivid manner the dedication of a life to the help of humanity and gives a good interpretation of the word "emphased" so much today, "Service".

The picture will be repeated at 7:45 tonight for the benefit of those who failed to see it last night and for others whose loyalty to their respective churches did not permit them to see it last night.

An offering is taken to meeting the expenses incident to showing the film.

GIVING FALSE NEWS MADE MISDEMEANOR

PREUS SIGNS ACT TO PUNISH FURNISHING INCORRECT INFORMATION

St. Paul, Feb. 5—Practical jokers and malicious persons who amuse themselves by sending false notices of weddings, engagements or other "events" to newspapers will run foul of a new law signed by Governor J. A. O. Preus. It is a brief and simple measure. Under it, any one "willfully, knowingly and maliciously" giving to a newspaper a false statement about any person or corporation is guilty of a misdemeanor. The law takes effect immediately.

Senator Chris Rosenmeier of Little Falls was author of the bill passed. Representatives R. W. Hitchcock of Hibbing and Theodore Christianson of Dawson, both newspaper editors, were authors of the companion bill in the house, for which the Rosenmeier bill was substituted.

It is almost identical with a New York law. The bill passed the senate unanimously, and after some debate in the house, passed there by 91 votes to 6. Instances where innocent people have been caused serious annoyance and humiliation by apparently harmless notices sent to newspapers were cited in support of the bill. It does not apply to cases where information is given in good faith but turns out to be erroneous. The act must be "willful and malicious."

25TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Fifty Friends Gathered at Home of Mr. and Mrs. Toger Peterson on Occasion

EVENT COMPLETE SURPRISE

Couple Were Given Places of Honor in Parlor and Entertainment Commences

About fifty friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Toger Peterson on Saturday evening on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary.

It was a complete surprise. The unsuspecting couple were in their working garments and the children were playing on the floor when the guests arrived and laid siege to the premises. Mr. and Mrs. Peterson were allowed time to array themselves in Sunday costume and they were given the place of honor in the parlor.

Then the program commenced. Miss Amy Zakariasen supervisor of music on the range schools, sang a beautiful Norwegian song, as well as rendering several selected pieces.

Rev. O. S. Winther explained the purpose of the gathering and on behalf of the friends and relatives presented them with a tray, coffee pot, sugar and cream pitcher, all of silver. Rev. Winther said it was a pleasure for him to pay this respect to this worthy couple. He reflected upon their wedding day and made a comparison between this day and their wedding day; the bride being just as sweet, bashful and loving as on her wedding day. He congratulated them upon their 25th jubilee.

He then called on A. G. Trommald, who gave a tribute to the bridegroom's honesty and integrity. He said thrift and work and perseverance were the chief characteristics of Mr. Peterson's success in life.

Mong Mahlum next spoke of the bride and groom as staunch friends and workers and thrifty people. He wished them a long and happy life.

John Carlson in touching words spoke of the high esteem he held Mr. Peterson and that the latter had been a friend to him both in need and in deed, and wished them both a long and happy life.

P. M. Zakariasen spoke about the marriage customs in Norway and compared them with the marriage customs of this country. He also paid his high respect to Mr. and Mrs. Peterson.

Judge Gustav Halvorsen was then called on for a tribute to Mrs. Peterson. He spoke of the mother's place in the home and that Mrs. Peterson was an ideal mother, living for her family, and that her home was her kingdom and that mother's love next to God was the greatest influence in the world for good.

When J. I. Dillan was called on, he said he forgot his speech at home, but nevertheless in beautiful words, paid a loving tribute to the couple.

M. J. Reis, who was a guest at their first wedding said that 25 years was long enough to live with any woman, and congratulated the couple.

John M. Bye gave the surprise speech of the evening through witicism and humor and exploded a bomb that struck Mr. Trommald so hard that Trommald had to leave town the next day and no one knows whether he has recovered to this day.

The climax was reached in a marvelous speech by Louis Hostager who told of the days of his youth and the first disappointments that came to him. At that time he had already set the wedding date and the friends were gathered at the church and the minister stood waiting at the altar when his first and only flame suddenly went out. From this shock he has never recovered, but nevertheless, he was rejoicing in the happiness of others who were more fortunate than he, and paid his respects to Mr. and Mrs. Peterson.

A. Gilbertson, brother of the bride also spoke, congratulating the couple and wishing them a long and happy life.

TO RID YOURSELF OF A COLD

Colds are contagious. Colds lead to la grippe. Colds lead to pneumonia and death. Colds are not hard to cure if taken in hand.

Go to the drug store and get an ordinary twenty-five cent jar of what is known as Muc-Solvent Salve. Also get some castor oil or epsom salts.

Melt some of the salve in a spoon; inhale the vapors, clear the head. Insert some of the salve in each nostril, close mouth and breathe deeply; this reaches the upper respiratory tract, soothes the inflamed membranes. Repeat each hour.

After a light supper take the purgative and go to bed. Rub Muc-Solvent Salve thickly on chest, cover with warm flannels. Sleep with window open.

Tomorrow the cold will probably be gone.

PNEUMONIA FOLLOWS SLIGHT COLD

At this time of the year a slight cold can become a bad cold in an hour and a bad cold can develop into a case of pneumonia before morning. People die this way every day.

Why neglect a cold? Give it instant attention. If taken in time it can be thrown off quickly, easily, surely.

Use Muc-Solvent Salve the minute you start to sneezing and thus probably avoid sickness.

Call Doctor.

If your cold persists, take no chances, call your doctor, he can cure you and thereby protect your relatives and friends from catching it.

Dr. L. W. Giffin, who practiced at Neenah, Wis., some years ago, had unusual success in treating affections of the head, throat, and chest. He used a prescription that loosened and expelled the phlegm or mucus that accumulates in such conditions. He became widely known. Druggists in several counties became familiar with his prescription, which was somewhat expensive to prepare. Then a company was formed to make it in quantity and thus reduce the cost. Dr. Giffin's medicine is today known as Muc-Solvent (Liquid). It is sold in many drug stores in 75c and $1.00 bottles.

A cold that has gotten out of hand can often be relieved with Muc-Solvent Liquid in conjunction with Muc-Solvent Salve. Consult your druggist; ask H. P. Dunn Drug Store, Lammon's Drug Store, Skauge Drug Co., Johnson's Pharmacy. And by Folio Drug Co., and Lovdahl Drug Co., at Crosby.

25TH WEDDING

ANNIVERSARY

Fifty Friends Gathered at Home of Mr. and Mrs. Toger Peterson on Occasion

EVENT COMPLETE SURPRISE

Couple Were Given Places of Honor in Parlor and Entertainment Commences

About fifty friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Toger Peterson on Saturday evening on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary.

It was a complete surprise. The unsuspecting couple were in their working garments and the children were playing on the floor when the guests arrived and laid siege to the premises. Mr. and Mrs. Peterson were allowed time to array themselves in Sunday costume and they were given the place of honor in the parlor.

Then the program commenced. Miss Amy Zakariassen supervisor of music on the range schools, sang a beautiful Norwegian song, as well as rendering several selected pieces.

Rev. O. S. Winther explained the purpose of the gathering and on behalf of the friends and relatives presented them with a tray, coffee pot, sugar and cream pitcher, all of silver. Rev. Winther said it was a pleasure for him to pay this respect to this worthy couple. He reflected upon their wedding day and made a comparison between this day and their wedding day; the bride being just as sweet, bashful and loving as on her wedding day. He congratulated them upon their 25th jubilee.

He then called on A. G. Trommald, who gave a tribute to the bridegroom's honesty and integrity. He said thrift and work and perseverance were the chief characteristics of Mr. Peterson's success in life.

Mons. Mahlum next spoke of the bride and groom as staunch friends and workers and thrifty people. He wished them a long and happy life.

John Carlson in touching words spoke of the high esteem he held Mr. Peterson and that the latter had been a friend to him both in need and in deed, and wished them both a long and happy life.

P. M. Zakariassen spoke about the marriage customs in Norway and compared them with the marriage customs of this country. He also paid his high respect to Mr. and Mrs. Peterson.

Judge Gustav Halvorsen was then called on for a tribute to Mrs. Peterson. He spoke of the mother's place in the home and that Mrs. Peterson was an ideal mother, living for her family, and that her home was her kingdom and that mother's love next to God was the greatest influence in the world for good.

When J. I. Dillan was called on, he said he forgot his speech at home, but nevertheless in beautiful words, paid a loving tribute to the couple.

M. J. Reis, who was a guest at their first wedding said that 25 years was long enough to live with any woman, and congratulated the couple.

John M. Bye gave the surprise speech of the evening through witicism and humor and exploded a bomb that struck Mr. Trommald so hard that Trommald had to leave town the next day and no one knows whether he has recovered to this day.

The climax was reached in a marvelous speech by Louis Hostager who told of the days of his youth and the first disappointments that came to him. At that time he had already set the wedding date and the friends were gathered at the church and the minister stood waiting at the altar when his first and only flame suddenly went out. From this shock he has never recovered, but nevertheless, he was rejoicing in the happiness of others who were more fortunate than he, and paid his respects to Mr. and Mrs. Peterson.

A. Gilbertson, brother of the bride also spoke, congratulating the couple and wishing them a long and happy life.

Mr. and Mrs. Peterson each gave a few words of thanks and appreciation for the splendid gifts received and the expression of gladness from so many of their friends.

Out of town guests for the occasion were:

Miss Gerda Peterson, Duluth; Ralph Peterson and Guy Gilbertson of the University of Minnesota, and Mrs. John Green of Duluth and Miss Amy Zakariassen of Crosby.

A dainty luncheon was served by the ladies and then at a late hour the party broke up, all agreeing that they had spent an enjoyable evening, which will never be forgotten, all giving them their best wishes.

CRIME COMMISSION REPORTS

THE Minnesota Crime commission is unanimously in favor of referring the matter of crime prevention to some kind of an interim commission which will study the subject thoroughly and report after two years.

This recommendation is a wise one. Demands that have been made for stern methods of dealing with criminals which, it has been claimed, will prevent lawlessness, have come out of the present wave of lawlessness that is sweeping through the land but which appears to have passed its crest and to be receding.

There is always a tendency for human nature to demand opposites. The pendulum is forever swinging. Years of capital punishment beget a reaction against such methods of punishment and when it is seen that there is nothing remedial about hanging a man, public sentiment demands some other method. But, when lawlessness sweeps through the land and persons are shot down in cold blood, citizens forget all about the long struggle that preceded the banishing of capital punishment and while their senses are shocked by horrible killings, they demand a return to the old, discarded method of dealing with criminals.

It is right, therefore, that the crime commission should ask that the whole matter of crime prevention be considered through a period of time, in which people may pass from the state of excitement arising from unusual criminal activity and think calmly and dispassionately about a subject that has engaged the attention of people for so long a time and has gradually, and after serious consideration, led to the removal of capital punishment as a penalty for crime.

The demand for the return of capital punishment arises out of conditions, conditions which it is claimed would be changed by the re-introduction of capital punishment. Statistics in America and England are compared and it is found that there are few murders in England and many in America. Therefore, it is argued, capital punishment, which obtains in England, is responsible for the prevention of crime. The argument does not convince. English jurists say that what is needed in the United States is the enforcement of the laws we have and a change in the processes of justice that will assure conviction for crime and punishment after conviction.

If we compare America with Russia, we will find plenty of killings and many executions there. Life is not protected by penalties but by a respect for human life and a certain national consciousness. There is a spirit in Russia, another in the United States, and yet another in England. In England they do not kill kings while in Russia they do. The spirit of the land must be changed and it will not be changed by hanging criminals.

In the two years, during which the interim commission looks into the subject, they are likely to come to the above conclusion. The country does not need legislation prompted by a stamped citizenship but legislation written by intelligent and thoughtful men who analyze causes and effects.

THE PATERNITY MEASURE

MOST of the welfare organizations of the state of Minnesota are in favor of the bill introduced by the four women members of the legislature which would give the illegitimate child its father's name and the same inheritance rights as the child born in wedlock.

When the measure is considered from the angle of the child, who is forced to suffer through no fault of its own, the bill should have the consideration of all legislators. Under present laws the child may be given its father's name if the father will admit his paternity in writing. To amend this, the bill proposes to confer the father's name on the child, if it is the wish of the mother that the father's name should be taken by the child, whether the father does or does not sign a statement of paternity, after the courts have decided that he is the father.

There is just one objection to the bill. Girls, and in most of such cases the mothers are but girls, know that under the present law, if a child is born out of wedlock, it may go through life without its father's name or a share in the father's estate. The knowledge of the unfortunate situation in which an illegitimate child is placed may serve as an inhibition and enforce the social standards which are against such relationships of male and female before marriage. If the stigma is removed and the illegitimate child is given the same place in life as the natural child, the resistance of girls subjected to temptation may be weakened, because of the removal of the injustice to the unfortunate child.

On the other hand, a responsibility will be placed upon the father that will serve as an inhibition upon the male, who will have knowledge that fatherhood without marriage carries the same obligations as fatherhood in the marriage relation. This knowledge, that the child will share his name and estate, will protect women from those men who hope to avoid the responsibility of the marriage relation.

Placing this responsibility upon the father will more than counter-balance any weakness in the bill that arises from lessening the mother's thought of possible misfortune for her child. And, probably, when the wrong is committed the effects of law have little influence upon the parties.

The innocent child ought to be protected and should be given the name of the father and share in his estate as other children do who are born in wedlock. Such seems to be the right of the innocent child, but just whether this legislation will improve things by strengthening the waning sense of the sanctity of the marriage relation does not appear at all certain.

PERSONAL GIFTS AND NATIONAL DEBTS

THE resolution introduced in the house by Congressman G. W. Edmonds, which would give the secretary of the treasury authority to cancel foreign debts at the request of holders of American bonds while prompted, perhaps, by a sense of humor, is probably, because of its irony, a very sensible resolution. This congressman thinks that if there are persons who are anxious for this country to cancel the debts of foreign nations, they may show their consistency and sacrificial purpose by turning in their American bonds to be applied on the debts of foreign nations.

There have been many arguments presented to show that America will not reach a place of prosperity until Europe has been placed on a solid footing and that this can come about only through the removal of the burden of indebtedness. These arguments have gone further and have affirmed that no advantage will come to this country through the collection of the debts because our advantage depends upon a return to normal conditions in which Europe will be able to buy our products.

All of this may be true. If it is, those who hold American bonds which were issued for the purpose of advancing money to the allies, by turning them in, can themselves aid in cancelling the debts and in bringing about the more normal conditions in Europe which they claim must be brought about if this country, including themselves, are to share in a new reign of prosperity.

There is irony in the resolution and there is common sense. The people will await the reaction of the bond-holders on the suggestion advanced by the congressman.

THE coalitions don't last forever. Hughes of Australia was the last to go. But how can it be expected that men will agree to work together in one organization for any length of time? The party system gives men the chance to fight each other.

JOHN D. isn't beaten yet. Many have gone for him, and some have tried to get him, but even bronchial trouble at his age was not able to do it.

SENATOR BROOKHART suggests that calling him names made him votes. Calling a man names is not argument and is never good taste.

CLARA PHILLIPS was found, but when she was found she was departing for parts unknown. When officers had her coming, she was going.

THE man who was electrocuted and afterwards taken from his coffin for a second charge must have been tough.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH NOTES

The 34th birthday of the Sunday school was celebrated during the closing exercises in a fitting manner. Mrs. Luken told about the organization with seven members on just such a cold Sunday as yesterday was. Rev. Kelly in behalf of the Sunday school presented Mrs. Luken with a box of flowers, she being our secretary the entire time except nine months. It is a record to be proud of.

The Faithful Light Bearers met Saturday at the home of Margaret Jackson. The following officers were elected: President Frances Lawson, vice president Isabella Erickson, secretary-treasurer Margaret Jackson. This is the second class to organize for mission study and work. Miss Ellen Dillon is the teacher.

Monday evening W. D. Gordon of Minneapolis will speak at 8 o'clock in the church on the Holy Land. This is given by the Sunday school and it is hoped all will lend their support to them.

The Westminster Guild Chapter will meet Tuesday evening, instead of Wednesday, with Mrs. John McKay. The 3rd chapter of the study book will be the topic of the evening.

The board of trustees will meet Wednesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. for their monthly meeting. Please be on time as much business is to be taken up.

Topic for the prayer meeting on Thursday evening at the church will be "The Holy Catholic Church", continuing the study of the creed. Sermon topic: "The Choice of God." Joshua 24:15 and 24.

"All life is service. Joshua does not ask the Israelites whether or not they will serve any God. It is taken as a matter of course, and assumed as a fact, that they must serve some acknowledged superior because it is a part of man's being to serve a superior power. It is only the fool who hath said in his heart, there is no God."

"We may choose our Master but we must serve."

"When men talk eloquently about the Golden Rule and following their conscience they may sound wise but they are not. The 'Golden Rule' is only golden when it has a principle worth while to guide it. The drunkard who gives his 'pal' a drink of moonshine is 'doing unto as others as he would that others should do unto him'."

"There are only two Gods to choose between and God will accept no divided allegiance. 'No man' says our Lord 'can serve two masters.'"

"The choice is urgent because it has been made today and it is a choice made for eternity."

"Optimism rules the roost this week," said W. C. Tubbs, chairman of the Minneapolis Committee in charge of "Market Week" plans.

"The co-incidence of the Twin City automobile show is a great drawing card," said Tubbs, "but buying power already demonstrated assures us of the success of the concentrated effort of business interested in the two cities."

Lavish entertainment for visiting merchants will be provided by committees in charge. Invitations were printed and sent to 35,000 merchants in the northwest and thousands are expected to respond.

CRIME COMMISSION REPORTS

THE Minnesota Crime commission is unanimously in favor of referring the matter of crime prevention to some kind of an interim commission which will study the subject thoroughly and report after two years.

This recommendation is a wise one. Demands that have been made for stern methods of dealing with criminals which, it has been claimed, will prevent lawlessness, have come out of the present wave of lawlessness that is sweeping through the land but which appears to have passed its crest and to be receding.

There is always a tendency for human nature to demand opposites. The pendulum is forever swinging. Years of capital punishment beget a reaction against such methods of punishment and when it is seen that there is nothing remedial about hanging a man, public sentiment demands some other method. But, when lawlessness sweeps through the land and persons are shot down in cold blood, citizens forget all about the long struggle that preceded the banishing of capital punishment and while their senses are shocked by horrible killings, they demand a return to the old, discarded method of dealing with criminals.

It is right, therefore, that the crime commission should ask that the whole matter of crime prevention be considered through a period of time, in which people may pass from the state of excitement arising from unusual criminal activity and think calmly and dispassionately about a subject that has engaged the attention of people for so long a time and has gradually, and after serious consideration, led to the removal of capital punishment as a penalty for crime.

The demand for the return of capital punishment arises out of conditions, conditions which it is claimed would be changed by the re-introduction of capital punishment. Statistics in America and England are compared and it is found that there are few murders in England and many in America. Therefore, it is argued, capital punishment, which obtains in England, is responsible for the prevention of crime. The argument does not convince. English jurists say that what is needed in the United States is the enforcement of the laws we have and a change in the processes of justice that will assure conviction for crime and punishment after conviction.

If we compare America with Russia, we will find plenty of killings and many executions there. Life is not protected by penalties but by a respect for human life and a certain national consciousness. There is a spirit in Russia, another in the United States, and yet another in England. In England they do not kill kings while in Russia they do. The spirit of the land must be changed and it will not be changed by hanging criminals.

In the two years, during which the interim commission looks into the subject, they are likely to come to the above conclusion. The country does not need legislation prompted by a stampeded citizenship but legislation written by intelligent and thoughtful men who analyze causes and effects.

THE PATERNITY MEASURE

Most of the welfare organizations of the state of Minnesota are in favor of the bill introduced by the four women members of the legislature which would give the illegitimate child its father's name and the same inheritance rights as the child born in wedlock.

When the measure is considered from the angle of the child, who is forced to suffer through no fault of its own, the bill should have the consideration of all legislators. Under present laws the child may be given its father's name if the father will admit his paternity in writing. To amend this, the bill proposes to confer the father's name on the child, if it is the wish of the mother that the father's name should be taken by the child, whether the father does or does not sign a statement of paternity, after the courts have decided that he is the father.

There is just one objection to the bill. Girls, and in most of such cases the mothers are but girls, know that under the present law, if a child is born out of wedlock, it may go through life without its father's name or a share in the father's estate. The knowledge of the unfortunate situation in which an illegitimate child is placed may serve as an inhibition and enforce the social standards which are against such relationships of male and female before marriage. If the stigma is removed and the illegitimate child is given the same place in life as the natural child, the resistance of girls subjected to temptation may be weakened, because of the removal of the injustice to the unfortunate child.

On the other hand, a responsibility will be placed upon the father that will serve as an inhibition upon the male, who will have knowledge that fatherhood without marriage carries the same obligations as fatherhood in the marriage relation. This knowledge, that the child will share his name and estate, will protect women from those men who hope to avoid the responsibility of the marriage relation.

Placing this responsibility upon the father will more than counter-balance any weakness in the bill that arises from lessening the mother's thought of possible misfortune for her child. And, probably, when the wrong is committed the effects of law have little influence upon the parties.

The innocent child ought to be protected and should be given the name of the father and share in his estate as other children do who are born in wedlock. Such seems to be the right of the innocent child, but just whether this legislation will improve things by strengthening the waning sense of the sanctity of the marriage relation does not appear at all certain.

PERSONAL GIFTS AND NATIONAL DEBTS

THE resolution introduced in the house by Congressman G. W. Edmonds, which would give the secretary of the treasury authority to cancel foreign debts at the request of holders of American bonds while prompted, perhaps, by a sense of humor, is probably, because of its irony, a very sensible resolution. This congressman thinks that if there are persons who are anxious for this country to cancel the debts of foreign nations, they may show their consistency and sacrificial purpose by turning in their American bonds to be applied on the debts of foreign nations.

There have been many arguments presented to show that America will not reach a place of prosperity until Europe has been placed on a solid footing and that this can come about only through the removal of the burden of indebtedness. These arguments have gone further and have affirmed that no advantage will come to this country through the collection of the debts because our advantage depends upon a return to normal conditions in which Europe will be able to buy our products.

All of this may be true. If it is, those who hold American bonds which were issued for the purpose of advancing money to the allies, by turning them in, can themselves aid in cancelling the debts and in bringing about the more normal conditions in Europe which they claim must be brought about if this country, including themselves, are to share in a new reign of prosperity.

There is irony in the resolution and there is common sense. The people will await the reaction of the bond-holders on the suggestion advanced by the congressman.

THE coalitions don't last forever. Hughes of Australia was the last to go. But how can it be expected that men will agree to work together in one organization for any length of time? The party system gives men the chance to fight each other.

JOHN D. isn't beaten yet. Many have gone for him, and some have tried to get him, but even bronchial trouble at his age was not able to do it.

SENATOR BROOKHART suggests that calling him names made him votes. Calling a man names is not argument and is never good taste.

CLARA PHILLIPS was found, but when she was found she was departing for parts unknown. When officers had her coming, she was going.

THE man who was electrocuted and afterwards taken from his coffin for a second charge must have been tough.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH NOTES

The 34th birthday of the Sunday school was celebrated during the closing exercises in a fitting manner. Mrs. Luken told about the organization with seven members on just such a cold Sunday as yesterday was. Rev. Kelly in behalf of the Sunday school presented Mrs. Luken with a box of flowers, she being our secretary the entire time except nine months. It is a record to be proud of.

The Faithful Light Bearers met Saturday at the home of Margaret Jackson. The following officers were elected: President Frances Lawson, vice president Isabella Erickson, secretary-treasurer Margaret Jackson. This is the second class to organize for mission study and work. Miss Ellen Dillan is the teacher.

Monday evening W. D. Gordon of Minneapolis will speak at 8 o'clock in the church on the Holy Land. This is given by the Sunday school and it is hoped all will lend their support to them.

The Westminster Guild Chapter will meet Tuesday evening, instead of Wednesday, with Mrs. John McKay. The 3rd chapter of the study book will be the topic of the evening.

The board of trustees will meet Wednesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. for their monthly meeting. Please be on time as much business is to be taken up.

Topic for the prayer meeting on Thursday evening at the church will be "The Holy Catholic Church", continuing the study of the creed. Sermon topic: "The Choice of God". Joshua 24:15 and 24.

"All life is service. Joshua does not ask the Israelites whether or not they will serve any God. It is taken as a matter of course, and assumed as a fact, that they must serve some acknowledged superior because it is a part of man's being to serve a superior power. It is only the fool who hath said in his heart, there is no God."

"We may choose our Master but we must serve."

"When men talk eloquently about the Golden Rule and following their conscience they may sound wise but they are not. The 'Golden Rule' is only golden when it has a principle worth while to guide it. The drunkard who gives his 'pal' a drink of moonshine is 'doing unto as others as he would that others should do unto him'."

"There are only two Gods to choose between and God will accept no divided allegiance. 'No man' says our Lord 'can serve two masters.'"

"The choice is urgent because it has been made today and it is a choice made for eternity."

COUNTY FATHERS

MEETING FEB. 3

R. R. Wise, Head of 10,000 Lakes Association, Asks County To Aid in Advertising

COUNTY FAIR ASKS FOR AID

County Highway Engineer Walter M. Murphy Made His Annual Report for Year 1922

R. R. Wise, as president of the Ten Thousand Lakes Association, addressed the board of county commissioners at their regular meeting Saturday afternoon, and requested that Crow Wing county make a small appropriation for the advertising of the lake region.

While the board took no definite action at this time, they looked favorably upon the matter, and with a local man heading such an organization as the Ten Thousand Lakes Association, it is possible that assistance will be given as it is realized that the county will benefit from such advertising.

A committee from the Crow Wing county agricultural society came before the board asking that one thousand dollars be given toward financing the County Fair held annually at Pequot.

The committee consisted of Pres. D. D. Schrader, Sec. August Larson, Julius Nelson and W. A. M. Johnson. Messrs. Nelson and Larson are from Pequot. These gentlemen wished to know how much they could plan on spending to put across the 1923 Fair, and to do this would have to know what appropriation to expect from the county. Pequot in the past has always raised $300 and it is felt that the town will be able to duplicate that figure this year.

The board took the matter under advisement and will act upon it at a future meeting.

County Highway Engineer, Walter M. Murphy, submitted his annual report for the year 1922, and at the same time gave the board an estimate on the cost of maintaining state aid and white line roads in the county for the first six months of 1923. This cost will be approximately $11,000.

T. T. Haafani of Deerwood asked the board for a reduction in the taxes on lumber sold by him to Ostrand & Olson. The matter was finally adjusted by the parties interested without the efforts of the board being required.

The commissioners ordered the highway engineer to get in touch with the Morrison county officials relative to making the necessary repairs on the bridge over the Mississippi near Fort Ripley. Since the river is the boundary line between these two counties, each pays half of the maintenance and Morrison county will be asked to stand this ratio of the repairs that are contemplated.

A reduction in taxes on certain mining property throughout the county was requested. Some of these reductions were allowed, others were tabled.

P. W. Roark's estimate of $2,916 on the graveling of the 13th Street road was allowed. Also John Humphrey's estimate of $150 for clearing the road between Pequot and Breezy Point.

The usual bills were taken up and allowed and routine business transacted, the board adjourning at a late hour in the evening.

Meeting Tuesday Evening

The regular monthly meeting of the Business & Professional Women's club will be held Tuesday evening at seven-thirty o'clock, at the club rooms in Koop hall. Important business concerning the future of the club is to be brought up and all members are requested to be present.

MRS. S. McKNIGHT TO SPEAK TUESDAY

At League of Women Voters Supper Held at the St. Paul Episcopal Church Parlors

IS CHAIRMAN 5TH DISTRICT

Was First Treasurer of the League and Showed Excellent Business Judgment (Contributed)

Who is Mrs. Sumner McKnight, and what will she talk about on Tuesday evening after the supper at the Episcopal church parlors? are questions that have been repeatedly asked, during the last week.

Mrs. McKnight was the first national treasurer of the League of Women Voters and was largely responsible for establishing it on such a firm business basis that it was enabled to immediately carry out its program of political education, public welfare legislation, and efficiency in government. She believed that there were many far-sighted people in the country who would support an organization with such aims and proved her faith by her works. She traveled all over the country, raising many thousands of dollars.

Now, as chairman of the fifth district, she is showing how well this money may be used to carry out the three-fold program of the League. Mrs. McKnight will tell of the many things they are doing in the fifth district to popularize the work of the league, and make it practically and politically effective. She comes to Brainerd on the invitation of the membership committee, and Mrs. W. C. Rash, the chairman of that committee, will preside at the meeting.

It will not be safe to risk getting tickets at the door, as there are only a very few tickets left, and no one will be admitted without a ticket, as only one hundred and twenty-five can be seated. If you are planning to attend, telephone at once to Mrs. J. P. Early, or Mrs. W. C. Mannis.

The young ladies of St. Mary's Guild are to assist in serving, and the Rotarian song leaders, Messrs. Ebert and Woodhead, will lead the community singing, with Marion Opshal at the piano.

Alpha Class

The Alpha class of the First Baptist church will meet this evening at the home of Mrs. H. A. Knapp, 29 Kingwood St. Mrs. Knapp and Miss Barrett will be the hostesses. All members and friends of the class are invited.

Congdon Circle

There will be a regular meeting of the J. C. Congdon Circle, No. 82, ladies of the G. A. R., on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30. A full attendance is desired. All members are requested to be on hand promptly at the specified hour.

Staples Municipal Judge Orders Man to Leave Town After Marriage to White

Staples, Minn., Feb. 5—Robert McGraw, colored, who professed to be a cancer doctor, was ordered to leave town by Judge Clary of the municipal court or serve a term in jail. McGraw came here several weeks ago from Fargo, N. D., and has been doing quite a lucrative business despite the fact that he had no license from the Minnesota state board.

Everything went well until a few days ago, when the "doctor," who had been out of town for a week, appeared with a white woman whom he asserted he married at Detroit, Minn. Then charges were preferred against him.

BABCOCK APPRECIATIVE

Acknowledges Support Accorded Highway Plan by Chamber of Commerce

At one of the recent meetings of the Brainerd Civic Association, the club went on record as endorsing the highway program as outlined by C. M. Babcock, commissioner of highways, and a letter was transmitted to Mr. Babcock to that effect.

An answer to this communication has just been received by the secretary and is as follows:

"Dear Sir: I was very pleased to note the favorable action taken by the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce on the proposed road program."

"It is encouraging to know that progressive people see the benefits to be derived from this program."

The letter is signed by Mr. Babcock. The program referred to is the proposed bond issue to take care of the highway construction work that is planned for the next two years. This bond issue would be taken care of by an automatic revolving fund supplied from the Motor Vehicle Tax law, and would be no added burden on the tax payers of the state.

USE FOR SALE ADS FOR RESULTS

Tailor-Made Advertising

One great fact must be remembered by those who have made the decision to advertise. The advertising plan must fit the business to which it is applied. There are no ready-to-wear advertising plans; each one must be tailor made.

The purpose of advertising is to increase business and not to relieve any one of his arduous duties. The manufacturer's salesman who regards advertising as a substitute for his own efforts has missed the point. His efforts are needed more than ever to support the advertising and put it across. His reward is larger sales.

Likewise, the merchant who chooses the advertised brands because they are "soft and easy" selling, has overlooked the essential idea. Certainly they sell easier; but this is not the big important truth. Rather, he should see that the manufacturer's advertising is an instrument put into his hands for increasing his volume and speeding up his turnover. Looking at the matter in this light, he will bend every effort to co-operate with the advertising and seek to make it pay him additional profits.

Advertising is not a form of perpetual motion that goes on forever without human assistance. The biggest problem any man has to settle after he has determined to advertise, and decided how to advertise, is this: How can I use my advertising so as to get the most out of it? Without close-linked co-operation it dissipates its force into air.

It must be hitched on to a business properly. Then it must be utilized with intelligence. When these conditions are fulfilled it does a type of work for which there is no efficient substitute.

L. T. Haaland of Deerwood asked the board for a reduction in the taxes on lumber sold by him to Ostrand & Olson. The matter was finally adjusted by the parties interested without the efforts of the board being required.

The commissioners ordered the highway engineer to get in touch with the Morrison county officials relative to making the necessary repairs on the bridge over the Mississippi near Fort Ripley. Since the river is the boundary line between these two counties, each pays half of the maintenance and Morrison county will be asked to stand this ratio of the repairs that are contemplated.

A reduction in taxes on certain mining property throughout the county was requested. Some of these reductions were allowed, others were tabled.

P. W. Roark's estimate of $2,916 on the graveling of the 13th Street road was allowed. Also John Humphrey's estimate of $150 for clearing the road between Pequot and Breezy Point.

The usual bills were taken up and allowed and routine business transacted, the board adjourning at a late hour in the evening.

MRS. S. McKNIGHT

TO SPEAK TUESDAY

At League of Women Voters Supper Held at the St. Paul Episcopal Church Parlor

IS CHAIRMAN 5TH DISTRICT

Was First Treasurer of the League and Showed Excellent Business Judgment

(Contributed)

Who is Mrs. Sumner McKnight, and what will she talk about on Tuesday evening after the supper at the Episcopal church parlor? are questions that have been repeatedly asked, during the last week.

Mrs. McKnight was the first national treasurer of the League of Women Voters and was largely responsible for establishing it on such a firm business basis that it was enabled to immediately carry out its program of political education, public welfare legislation, and efficiency in government. She believed that there were many far-sighted people in the country who would support an organization with such aims and proved her faith by her works. She traveled all over the country, raising many thousands of dollars.

Now, as chairman of the fifth district, she is showing how well this money may be used to carry out the three-fold program of the League. Mrs. McKnight will tell of the many things they are doing in the fifth district to popularize the work of the league, and make it practically and politically effective. She comes to Brainerd on the invitation of the membership committee, and Mrs. W. C. Rash, the chairman of that committee, will preside at the meeting.

It will not be safe to risk getting tickets at the door, as there are only a very few tickets left, and no one will be admitted without a ticket, as only one hundred and twenty-five can be seated. If you are planning to attend, telephone at once to Mrs. J. P. Early, or Mrs. W. C. Mannis.

The young ladies of St. Mary's Guild are to assist in serving, and the Rotarian song leaders, Messrs. Ebert and Woodhead, will lead the community singing, with Marion Opshal at the piano.

Alpha Class

The Alpha class of the First Baptist church will meet this evening at the home of Mrs. H. A. Knapp, 29 Kingwood St. Mrs. Knapp and Miss Barrett will be the hostesses. All members and friends of the class are invited.

Congdon Circle

There will be a regular meeting of the J. C. Congdon Circle, No. 89, ladies of the G. A. R., on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30. A full attendance is desired. All members are requested to be on hand promptly at the specified hour.

NEGRO "DOCTOR" OUSTED

Staples Municipal Judge Orders Man to Leave Town After Marriage to White

Staples, Minn., Feb. 5.—Robert McGraw, colored, who professed to be a cancer doctor, was ordered to leave town by Judge Clary of the municipal court or serve a term in jail. McGraw came here several weeks ago from Fargo, N. D., and has been doing quite a lucrative business despite the fact that he had no license from the Minnesota state board.

Everything went well until a few days ago, when the "doctor," who had been out of town for a week, appeared with a white woman whom he asserted he married at Detroit, Minn. Then charges were preferred against him.

BABCOCK APPRECIATIVE

Acknowledges Support Accorded Highway Plan by Chamber of Commerce

At one of the recent meetings of the Brainerd Civic Association, the club went on record as endorsing the highway program as outlined by C. M. Babcock, commissioner of highways, and a letter was transmitted to Mr. Babcock to that effect.

An answer to this communication has just been received by the secretary and is as follows:

"Dear Sir: I was very pleased to note the favorable action taken by the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce on the proposed road program."

"It is encouraging to know that progressive people see the benefits to be derived from this program."

The letter is signed by Mr. Babcock. The program referred to is the proposed bond issue to take care of the highway construction work that is planned for the next two years. This bond issue would be taken care of by an automatic revolving fund supplied from the Motor Vehicle Tax law, and would be no added burden on the tax payers of the state.

Little Falls high school basketball quint met its third successive defeat when it fell before the fast Bemidji quint at the armory in Bemidji, the score being 21 to 12. Little Falls was unlucky in their field shots, and even in the free throws failed to connect with the basket more than twice out of fifteen chances. Riggs and Neuman were the stars for Bemidji, Riggs' baskets being of the grandstand variety. The Bemidji juvenile band played.

USE FOR SALE ADS FOR RESULTS

Tailor-Made Advertising

One great fact must be remembered by those who have made the decision to advertise. The advertising plan must fit the business to which it is applied. There are no ready-to-wear advertising plans; each one must be tailor made.

The purpose of advertising is to increase business and not to relieve any one of his arduous duties. The manufacturer's salesman who regards advertising as a substitute for his own efforts has missed the point. His efforts are needed more than ever to support the advertising and put it across. His reward is larger sales.

Likewise, the merchant who chooses the advertised brands because they are "soft and easy" selling, has overlooked the essential idea. Certainly they sell easier; but this is not the big important truth. Rather, he should see that the manufacturer's advertising is an instrument put into his hands for increasing his volume and speeding up his turnover. Looking at the matter in this light, he will bend every effort to co-operate with the advertising and seek to make it pay him additional profits.

Advertising is not a form of perpetual motion that goes on forever without human assistance. The biggest problem any man has to settle after he has determined to advertise, and decided how to advertise, is this: How can I use my advertising so as to get the most out of it? Without close-linked co-operation it dissipates its force into air.

It must be hitched on to a business properly. Then it must be utilized with intelligence. When these conditions are fulfilled it does a type of work for which there is no efficient substitute.

U. S. GOLFERS AGAIN AFTER BRITISH OPEN

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Feb. 5.—About the only thing England has been able to retain since Uncle Sam's athletes started on the rampage three years ago is the British amateur golf championship. Every other trophy of importance in every major sport has taken a one-way trip across the Atlantic to this side.

With the decision of the United States Golf association to send a representative team of amateur golfers over to the British championship next summer, that lonesome amateur cup may find itself back with familiar friends in this country.

Unless the Briarcliff Lodge club persists in its rather selfish purpose of refusing Gene Sarazen a leave of absence to compete in the British open championship, the success of Jock Hutchinson and Walter Hagen in winning the "open" the last two years for America ought to be repeated.

Winning the British open championship is the greatest honor that can be earned by a golfer and it would not be good sportmanship to refuse Sarazen his chance. Even if the club is paying Sarazen $12,000 a year, it would do the club more good to have its representative win that great classic than to have him around the club doing some inconsequential teaching or exhibiting.

With Sarazen, Hutchinson, Hagen, Barnes and others leading the attack, the British outlook would be dismal, very dismal.

Ban Johnson is being criticized because he wrote to a Massachusetts legislator approving the suggestion that ball players be licensed as a part of a proposed state regulation of the sport.

"Terrible! Awful!" all the club owners wail. Well, professional boxers and jockeys are licensed. What's the difference?

Around the Columbia, Cornell, Syracuse, Pennsylvania and Washington boathouses, the faces of the boys and the coaches looked a few days ago like they had received permission to put a motor in the shell.

They had just heard that the Navy crew wasn't going to race on the Hudson next June and probably all the following Junes.

If the departure of Ed. Leader and Murphy does not upset the crew, that race next June ought to be another one in for the Pacific coast. Washington has a crew and Washington is coming back to race.

The old argument is up again about the distance for race. Columbia and Syracuse want to go back to the old distance of four miles, claiming that three miles is a sprint distance and does not bring out the real class of a crew.

Other members of the association object to the four mile distance on the grounds that it endangers the health of the oarsmen.

Medical experts never have been able to agree on the benefits of rowing. Some claim that it weakens the heart and impairs health, others just as emphatically consider it a builder.

Yale and Harvard have rowed four miles for years in their annual race and Oxford and Cambridge do a little more than four miles in England and the effects have not been notoriously bad on the oarsmen.

The ordinary fan will not be overly excited by an argument over the distance of any rowing race, but if he gets into a dispute let him bet all he's got that one mile is a whale of a distance when you're pulling one of those sweeps.

AMUSEMENTS

ONE THRILL IS NOT ENOUGH FOR GRIFFITH

There are Many in "Orphans of the Storm," Great Dramatic Epic Now Showing at Lyceum

One thrill is usually counted on for the success of the average motion picture feature. There are many in D. W. Griffith's great dramatic epic "Orphans of the Storm" an adaptation of Kate Claxton's "The Two Orphans," and which will be shown at the Lyceum tonight and Tuesday for the last time, in several of these Monte Blue is the hero. This famous actor, part Cherokee Indian and originally a rider in "wild westerns," long since won stellar eminence, but Mr. Griffith gave him are looking at them. The effect is said to surpass even the famed Ku Klux Klan ride in "The Birth of a Nation."

The abduction scene of Henriette, the duel at Bel-Air, the adventures of the blind Louise, the orphan sister, the meeting of the sisters at the Tribunal, and under the guillotine, and finally the depiction of the little heroine's impending fate, are among the other high points of a great story that weld together the old "Two Orphans" play and the French Revolution drama. Those well known favorites Miss Lillian and Miss Dorothy Gish play the title roles.

Avenues of Service

REGINALD McKENNA, head of the largest bank in the world, says that "Splendid isolation is a dream," a truth which every industrial leader accepts as axiomatic. Had he substituted monopoly for isolation he would have expressed another self-evident truth which would have been acclaimed by every man who has given serious thought to the development of business on a large scale.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is a big business striving to do a big job in a big way, yet no thought is given to achieving a monopoly: for those who direct the Company's activities know that in any basic industry such an ambition is impossible of fulfillment. Competition is welcome, for no single organization can hope to serve the people of the Middle West with petroleum products as they should be served. The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) enjoys a large volume of business and is satisfied to let this volume take care of its profits.

There is a reciprocal bond between every great industrial organization and the social environment in which it operates. An organization is truly great only when the service it renders is great.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is in daily contact with a community of about 30 million people.

It serves them through a host of useful products refined from petroleum. Through these products it touches the home and industrial life of the people. It enters the sick chamber with mineral oil and petroleum jelly. It enters the factory, the roundhouse, and the farmyard with lubricating oils for machines, engines, and tractors. It seeks the farm home with gasoline, kerosene, candles and paraffin. It touches the railroad right of way with Fortnite Long Time Burner Oil for signal lamps; it supplies thousands of public and private garages with gasoline and lubricants. It feeds the furnaces of homes and factories with Stanolind Furnace Oil. It goes to the hospital with Stanolind Surgical Wax. It paves the streets with Stanolind Paving Asphalt.

These are but a few of the avenues of service which the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) maintains. To keep these avenues open the Company operates 1700 service stations, 3900 bulk stations, 7000 tank wagons serving thousands of garages, and 6 great refineries to supply their needs.

Thus does the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) acknowledge its reciprocal bond, and by creating a host of useful, essential products from a single basic raw material—crude petroleum—justify its claim to master craftsmanship in industrial husbandry.

IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

Here's Grandmother's Recipe to Darken and Beautify Faded Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all-ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.—Advt.

Other members of the association object to the four mile distance on the grounds that it endangers the health of the oarsmen.

Medical experts never have been able to agree on the benefits of rowing. Some claim that it weakens the heart and impairs health, others just as emphatically consider it a builder.

Yale and Harvard have rowed four miles for years in their annual race and Oxford and Cambridge do a little more than four miles in England and the effects have not been notoriously bad on the oarsmen.

The ordinary fan will not be overly excited by an argument over the distance of any rowing race, but if he gets into a dispute let him bet all he's got that one mile is a whale of a distance when you're pulling one of those sweeps.

ONE THRILL IS NOT ENOUGH FOR GRIFFITH

There are Many in "Orphans of the Storm," Great Dramatic Epic Now Showing at Lyceum

One thrill is usually counted on for the success of the average motion picture feature. There are many in D. W. Griffith's great dramatic epic "Orphans of the Storm" an adaptation of Kate Claxton's "The Two Orphans," and which will be shown at the Lyceum tonight and Tuesday for the last time, in several of these Monte Blue is the hero. This famous actor, part Cherokee Indian and originally a rider in "wild westerns," long since won stellar eminence, but Mr. Griffith gave him the greatest role of his career in the part of Danton, leader of the French Revolutionary uprising.

Early in the story Danton's life is sought by the hired thugs that the Royalists employed to kill off the Revolutionists. Danton fights the advance guard superbly, then finds refuge in the lodging of the orphan Henriette Girard, who by a clever ruse diverts the pursuers elsewhere. Later, Danton repays the favor by pleading for the girl's life before the Revolutionary Tribunal and by riding with her reprieve even to the steps of the guillotine.

The ride to the rescue is punctuated by a battle between horseman and a group of the Robespierre faction. This is a thrilling affair at the gate of Paris. The horses belong to the U. S. government cavalry, and the riders are either active or ex-army men. The cavalry have been so photographed that they seem to be rushing on the theatre-spectators who

REGINALD McKENNA, head of the largest bank in the world, says that "Splendid isolation is a dream," a truth which every industrial leader accepts as axiomatic. Had he substituted monopoly for isolation he would have expressed another self-evident truth which would have been acclaimed by every man who has given serious thought to the development of business on a large scale.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is a big business striving to do a big job in a big way, yet no thought is given to achieving a monopoly; for those who direct the Company's activities know that in any basic industry such an ambition is impossible of fulfillment. Competition is welcome, for no single organization can hope to serve the people of the Middle West with petroleum products as they should be served. The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) enjoys a large volume of business and is satisfied to let this volume take care of its profits.

There is a reciprocal bond between every great industrial organization and the social environment in which it operates. An organization is truly great only when the service it renders is great.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is in daily contact with a community of about 30 million people.

It serves them through a host of useful products refined from petroleum. Through these products it touches the home and industrial life of the people. It enters the sick chamber with mineral oil and petroleum jelly. It enters the factory, the roundhouse, and the farmyard with lubricating oils for machines, engines, and tractors. It seeks the farm home with gasoline, kerosene, candles and paraffin. It touches the railroad right of way with Fortnite Long Time Burner Oil for signal lamps; it supplies thousands of public and private garages with gasoline and lubricants. It feeds the furnaces of homes and factories with Stanolind Furnace Oil. It goes to the hospital with Stanolind Surgical Wax. It paves the streets with Stanolind Paving Asphalt.

These are but a few of the avenues of service which the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) maintains. To keep these avenues open the Company operates 1700 service stations, 3900 bulk stations, 7000 tank wagons serving thousands of garages, and 6 great refineries to supply their needs.

Thus does the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) acknowledge its reciprocal bond, and by creating a host of useful, essential products from a single basic raw material—crude petroleum—justify its claim to master craftsmanship in industrial husbandry.

IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

Here's Grandmother's Recipe to Darken and Beautify Faded Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all-ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.—Adv't.
